Remember these faces. They belong to The Bravest

They are the members of the Fire Department who charged toward the calamity at the World Trade Center and didn't make it back.

Thirty-four are confirmed to have perished in the terrorist attack their bodies have been recovered. But 309 remain lost in the ruins of the collapsed towers.

Remember these faces And remember the courage behind them

Faces of the PA police

These are the brave officers who stood on New York's front lines against terrorism.

They guarded the airports. They guarded the passageways into the city. They guarded the World Trade Center. And now, they are gone.

Four Port Authority police officers are confirmed killed in the twin towers attack. Thirty-three remain lost in the ruins.

Remember them all.
